

Philadelphia Advertising & Business Show

March 7, 2012

Philadelphia's only business show that features marketing-related companies from this area will be held on

Wednesday, March 7, 2012
from 9:00am to 4:30pm.

Now in its 39th consecutive year, the Philadelphia Advertising & Business Show, will be held in the ballroom of the Villanova Conference Center, 601 County Line Road, Radnor, PA 19087.

Strictly a business-to-business, direct sales show, the event has exhibitors from scores of local companies.

It is where buyers come to meet companies and organizations that can provide income-producing ideas, service and supplies.

The buyers that flock to the show typically are the decision makers from medium-size companies, including family-owned firms, entrepreneurs, and start-ups.
